Jharkhand -825101

Through the Principal.

Dear Sir,

This is in with reference to Department level staff meeting to assess the syllabus of Mechanical Engineering Department against program outcome as per NBA guidelines. I want to say that the syllabus of Mechanical Engineering Department which are provided by the esteemed university is not satisfying all the program outcome. according to NBA (National Board of Accreditation) criteria. The MOM dated 03/08/2018 (department level) is attached with this application in which some extra modules have been designed. I like to inform you that, kindly revise the course curriculum so that the entire program outcome could be satisfied.

Looking forward for your positive suggestion on our assessment.

Rajeev Ranjan

With warm regards

Through the Principal
Respected Sir,

I would like to inform you that our departmental department level Advisory Committee (Ramgarh Engineering College) identified some gaps in course curriculum according to the NBA guidelines.

curriculum gap as follows.

- a) The average value of non zero in Program Articulation matrix (PAM) indicates the extent of compliance of the University C contributing for the corresponding PO and PSO.
- b) Average value less than two is an indication of the curriculum deficiency. It is needed to further analysis of the course topics.
- c) Academic group/department level Advisory Committee:(AAC) has been taken the feedback from industries to understand what are the requirements for graduates now a days.

Departmental (ECE) Program Specific Outcomes (PSOs): (Defined by Department level)

PSO1: Apply the basic knowledge of Electronics & Communication System with the application of suitable techniques to provide services to our society.
